The Naples-based company has named Nick Cornwell director of sales and design. His responsibilities will include sales, and working with customers throughout the design, purchasing, and building process. Originally from Indiana, Cornwell studied business marketing at the University of Indiana. He worked as a loan officer for a large retail mortgage company. He moved to Southwest Florida in 2011. Cornwell was previously responsible for sales and design for a community expansion project consisting of 160 home sites in Lee County.
